A hand-drawn diagram of a web application for "Irreplacable". The diagram shows a browser window at the top with the URL "https://irreplacable/show/{id}". Below the browser, the main heading is "Irreplacable {Company} {Job Title}". Underneath the heading are four links: "Return to Dashboard", "Add Job Opportunity", "Edit Job Opportunity", and "Sign out". The main content area is a table with 10 rows and 2 columns. The first 8 rows have labels like "Stage of Interview", "Next Follow-Up?", "Company", "Job Title", "Area of Expertise", "Salary", "Remote?", and "Notable Benefits". The last two rows are "Job Description" and "Additional Notes", which contain placeholder text. The final row is "Excitement Level". Arrows indicate the flow from the browser window to the main heading, from the heading to the links, and from the links to the table content.
